ABOUT THE COMPETITION

National Law University, Jodhpur ("NLU Jodhpur") and Allen and Overy are pleased to host the inaugural edition of the Allen & Overy-NLU Jodhpur International Deal Negotiation Competition ("Competition") from March 10-12, 2023. The Competition will host 32 teams from India and overseas, chosen based on the experience and accomplishments of the universities in the field of Alternative Dispute Resolution ("ADR").

The objective of the Competition is to instil the soft-skills of negotiation and commercial awareness in law students from across the globe, set to practice law in a highly corporatized world, with business transactions being concluded every minute. It will include a special training session by Allen & Overy as well as various networking sessions for participants.

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION COMMITTEE

NLU Jodhpur's Alternative Dispute Resolution Committee ("ADRC") was founded in 2018 with the goal of promoting education and practise in ADR techniques among students. Since its inception, the ADRC has also hosted three editions of the Deal Mediation Competition and it also promotes the adoption of negotiation and mediation skills amongst students, by organising workshops and intra-University competitions.

VENUE

Located at the edge of Thar Desert of Rajasthan, Jodhpur is the embodiment of colourful exuberance ingrained within its people, places, and possessions. The city has maintained an index of massive progress and development in the tourism sector with Rajputana palaces interspersed with innumerable mythological stories, renowned chain of hotels & resorts, and the local streets of the city where customs meet costumes in the 'Leheriya' pattern prints unique to the fabric of Jodhpur.
