

Annex 1 Introduction to Juris Master and LL.M in International Economic Law

In 2023-2024 academic year, ECUPL will host the Juris Master and LL.M programs in International Economic Law. Both of the programs are English-taught law programs fully covered by scholarship targeting at fostering high-level legal talents.

The programs hosted by ECUPL are parts of the “Chinese Government Scholarship” project initiated by the Chinese Scholarship Council. Through the project, the students can grow social network and pool together their resources and intellect to make continuous contribution to their field of study. Against this background, ECUPL undertakes to host the programs in International Economic Law taught in English. During the studies, the students will be able to learn from the top-level professors and experts in ECUPL, one of China’s top law schools, and to broaden their horizon by living in the international metropolis of Shanghai. There will be numerous practice opportunities, enabling the students to better understand the status and development trend of China's economic law.

Please kindly find the introduction to each program as below:

Part One Juris Master in International Economic Law (two years)

Eligibility

1. Non-Chinese Citizen;
2. Healthy both physically and mentally;
3. Have bachelor’s degree or above in law or related majors;
4. Have a good command of English so as to study in the English-taught program;

For further information about the program, please refer to the attached is brochure. Once successfully accepted into the program, the participants will enjoy:

1. Full scholarships covering the tuition fees
2. Free accommodation
3. Monthly living allowance (USD 450 per month) upon your arrival on campus during the program

4. Health Insurance for International Students provided by the Chinese government

Application

1. Application form with personal picture and sign;
2. Scanning of passport;
3. Scanning of bachelor degree and academic transcripts;
4. Scanning of English language proficiency test;
5. Scanning of non-criminal record;
6. CV and personal statement;
7. Two recommendation letters;
8. Send the documents to 50256@ecupl.edu.cn with the subject of LL.M in International Economic Law by 3 March (Friday) 2023.

Part Two LL.M in International Economic Law (one year)

Eligibility

1. Non-Chinese Citizen;
2. Not over 45 years old to the date of 1 Sep. 2023;
3. Healthy both physically and mentally;
4. Have bachelor's degree or above in law or related majors;
5. Have at least 3 years working experience in the filed of law or related professions;
5. Have a good command of English so as to study in the English-taught program;
6. Working in a government agency / company or research institute, and being a section direction or chief of office, a senior manager or strong in scientific researches.

For further information about the program, please refer to the attached is brochure. Once successfully accepted into the program, the participants will enjoy:

1. Full scholarships covering the tuition fees
2. Free accommodation
3. Monthly living allowance (USD 1100 per month) upon your arrival on campus during the program

4. One time allowance of re-location (USD 440)
5. One round trip between home country to Shanghai
6. Health Insurance for International Students provided by the Chinese government

Application

1. Application form with personal picture and sign;
2. Scanning of passport;
3. Scanning of bachelor degree and academic transcripts;
4. Scanning of English language proficiency test;
5. Scanning of non-criminal record;
6. CV and personal statement;
7. Employment verification (If the latest employment is less than 3 years, please provide the verification with at least 3 years of employment.)
9. Two recommendation letters;
10. Send the documents to 50256@ecupl.edu.cn with the subject of LL.M in International Economic Law by 30 March (Thursday) 2023.

The final enrollment decision of both of the programs will be made by the enrollment Committee organized by the Chinese Scholarship Council, since the programs are sponsored by the Chinese government. The enrollment Committee has the final say.

In addition, one can NOT apply two programs. Please kindly circulate the news. If you have any qualified candidates who are interested in the programs, please don't hesitate to do the application.