

GLOBAL CONNECTIONS

'Environment Without Borders: Seeking Solutions for the Future'

3 February – 3 March 2025

Are you interested in exchanging perspectives on the future of the environment?

Come collaborate with us on a small, online cross-university project with students from universities throughout Europe on this important theme. The EUTOPIA Learning Community, 'Global Connections' will be hosting a learning opportunity for students interested in building working relationships across borders; engaging in intercultural discussions about environmental issues; and becoming part of a multidisciplinary research team. Together, you will critically explore perspectives on the future of the environment and the opportunities and challenges it presents, and investigate the extent to which this 'translate' across borders and academic disciplines. Based on your research, you will have three weeks to create a poster and record a pitch to advocate for the topic you will have selected as a team.

Participating students need to be available to attend two 1-hour online sessions: one on 3 February at 14:30 CET and one on 3 March at 14:30 CET.

Your participation will result in an EUTOPIA micro-credential certificate.

Please send your expression of interest, and any questions about this opportunity to Melina.Delmas@warwick.ac.uk and Andreja Žgajnar Gotvajn (andreja.zgajnar@fkkt.uni-lj.si) by Wednesday, 29. January 2025.

Looking forward to seeing you there!

Learn more about the 'Global Connections' Learning Community on our webpage.