ABOUT IDSL 2020

IDSL 2020 is an international doctoral seminar, organized by the Faculty of Law, University of Ljubljana. The seminar offers PhD candidates the opportunity to engage in an academic discussion with their fellow candidates as well as senior scholars and legal experts. It enables PhD candidates from different countries to present their research, conducted for the purpose of their PhD, and receive feedback on their work from legal experts, working in their field.

The 2020 seminar will focus on the fields of administrative and constitutional (both national and European) law. The doctoral seminar will take place at the Faculty of Law, University of Ljubljana (Slovenia) on 10 September 2020. In case the organization of the seminar at the Faculty will not be possible for public health reasons, it will be organized online.

The language of the seminar is English.

PROGRAMME

The seminar will be composed of several panels, focusing on specific topics and chaired by recognized senior scholars and legal experts from different European countries. The students will present their findings in panels and receive direct feedback from the chair and other panellists, as well as other participating candidates.

A detailed programme, including the names of participating scholars and legal experts, will be published after the conclusion of the selection procedure, based on the received applications.
