INVITATION

3rd International Conference of PhD Students and Young Researchers

SECURITY AS THE PURPOSE OF LAW

9-10 April 2015

Vilnius University Faculty of Law

SUBJECT AND PARTICIPANTS

Personal safety and safety of groups of individuals as well as countries is one of main purposes of legal regulation at various levels. The 3rd International Conference of PhD Students and Young Researches is devoted to discuss on how this purpose is achieved and interacts with other goals of legal regulation in different branches of law. Security may be analysed from the perspective of single individual, group of individuals or communities and even states. Different theoretical and practical problems may be highlighted in this regard.

The aim of the conference is to reveal and thoroughly discuss security as the purpose of law from different angles and to share experiences of different legal systems, also to foster academic cooperation of PhD students and young researchers.

Target participants of this Conference are PhD students and young researchers of social sciences, especially with background in law. The papers on security can be presented from perspective of public international law, international private law, civil law, criminal law, social security and labour law, etc.
